“Listen, Download, Play”

During the opening weeks of 2019 PlentyMusic will be distributing welcome postcards to schools, academies and colleges. If you are a music teacher and would like some sent to you please email office@plentymusic.co.uk with your contact details and an indication of the number of cards you require.

Please note that on the website there are some very generous 2019 membership offers bringing down the cost of a credit to as low as 29p. At the time of writing the most expensive item on the website has a value of 3 credits. Make the most of these special offers.

Recent sheet music uploads to the PlentyMusic website include arrangements of an intermediate level piece by the Cuban composer Ignacio Cervantes “No Bailes Más!” (Dance No More) and the piano piece Scherzino Mexicano by the Mexican composer Manuel Ponce. This latter piece was originally written for guitar but is also a great solo piano piece. Both have been added to the PlentyMusic Café area of study intended as performance pieces for more informal musical gatherings. The PlentyMusic team are constantly preparing sheet music resources for uploading to its website. Under the terms of the PlentyMusic licence, scores can be copied allowing music to be submitted for examination and audition purposes.

PlentyMusic has a commitment to providing a broad range of sheet music resources on its website for many different instruments and instrument combinations. Music teachers can recommend PlentyMusic to their students with confidence to find a piece of music to play for a concert, audition or examination.

Listen, browse and search for sheet music on the go using the PlentyMusic APP on your android phone. <https://play.google.com/store/apps/details?id=co.uk.plentymusics>

Follow us on Twitter and YouTube by clicking the appropriate link on the website

Please visit the PlentyMusic website and browse through the arrangements that are available. If there is nothing appropriate for you do drop us an email indicating what you require and we will endeavour to have something in place for you for a subsequent visit. Remember that at present PlentyMusic provides sheet music resources for individual instruments and ensembles and not for voices.

To enjoy the full benefits of the website the PlentyMusic team advises you to sign up and register. This will enable you to Log In and listen to sound files in full. There is no obligation to purchase a music copy or a membership when you visit the site.

The membership system allows you to purchase a number of credits which can then be used to download sheet music that you have selected from browsing the website. Remember that you can listen to the music and preview the sheet music before purchase. All music downloaded from www.plentymusic.co.uk is delivered to the user's dashboard.

PlentyMusic is something like a sheet music shop allowing you to browse and listen until you find a piece of music that you want to play.

Individuals who sign up to use the site receive 5 credits enabling them to try out the resources on the site. PlentyMusic needs to have both users and visitors to its site.

What is particularly unique about PlentyMusic scores is what you see in the score is actually what you hear playing in the mp3 recording. The sheet music scores are used to create the sound recordings or realisations.

PlentyMusic is keen to provide sheet music resources for ensembles found in schools, colleges and academies. These include saxophone quartet, clarinet choirs and guitar ensembles. If you have any suggestions about repertoire please do email the PlentyMusic Office.

If you wish to contact PlentyMusic please email office@plentymusic.co.uk with your feedback and comments
